

I am strongly opposed to the weakening of the Indiana telephone privacy laws. If companies with which I do business are allowed to invade the privacy of my home I would seriously consider terminating my association with them.